

THE DEVIL'S LAKE

I'm drowning in the devil's lake
On shore my savior stands
He reach' his arms to sweetly take
Blood flows warm from his hands
Blood flows warm from his hands

The tears of man a rising flood
To hell we're swept away
Because I would not drink Christ's blood
The devil I must pay
The devil I must pay

He coils around my weeping legs
Oh, Satan, he is a snake
He knows no mercy as I begs
I'm drowning in his lake
I'm drowning in his lake

But as I drown the water it
Does change from black to red
The blood of Jesus fills my lungs
Now my soul will never be dead
Now my soul will never be dead

I'm drowning in the devil's lake
On shore my savior stands
He reach' his arms to sweetly take
Blood flows warm from his hands
Blood flows warm from his hands